Improving the overall behavioral health of citizens in the Commonwealth

U.S. Department of Health and Human Services
Health Resources and Services Administration
Our faculty in the Department of Family and Community Medicine are committed to excellence in primary care, education, and research.

The Department of Family and Community Medicine is one of the seventeen clinical departments in the College of Medicine. The DFCM embraces the concept that a well-trained family physician is the exemplary primary care specialist. Improving the health of the people of Lexington-Fayette County and the surrounding area, the Commonwealth, and society at large is central to the mission of the UK Medical Center and the DFCM.

Our department missions support those of the College of Medicine which are to develop knowledge, skills, and attitudes that promote professionalism, teamwork, life-long learning, empathy, scholarships, cultural sensitivity, and leaderships, with the goal of providing excellence in education, health care, and research within the Commonwealth of Kentucky and beyond.

This project was made possible by a grant received by the University of Kentucky College of Social Work in collaboration with the University of Kentucky Family and Community Medicine from the US Health Resources and Services Administration (HRSA) as part of the White House “Now is the Time” initiative.

The grant’s purpose is to improve access to behavioral health services for at risk children, adolescents and transition age adults (18-25) by increasing the number of well-prepared behavioral health social workers in primary care throughout Kentucky.

The College of Social Work promotes community and individual wellbeing through its translational research and scholarship, exemplary teaching, and vital community engagement. The College is committed to the people and social institutions throughout Kentucky, the nation and the world.
