

Recent Dissertations: Graduates of UK's College of Social Work 2012-2006

Wahler, Elizabeth. The relationship of social stress, economic hardship, and psychological distress to addiction severity among Kentucky substance abuse treatment participants.

Stevenson, E. Examining chronic non-cancer pain among a sample of individuals in opioid treatment programs.

Abraham, Glenn. Prisoners serving sentences of life without parole: A qualitative study and survey.

Ojha, Mamta. Job demands, social support, and work/family conflict among immigrant and domestic workers in the United States.

Adedoyin, Christson. A systematic review of evidence-based cancer education media interventions to improve cancer screening behavior among African-Americans in the United States.

Reid, Caroline. Factors associated with father involvement among low-income, noncustodial fathers.

Thomas, Jacky. Intrapsychic predictors of professional quality of life mindfulness, empathy, and emotional separation.

Geurin, Danni Lynn. Sentencing youth in court: The impact of a social work field education program.

Macke, Caroline. Adult romantic attachment as a risk factor for intimate partner violence victimization.

Luftman, Virginia H. An analysis of the teachable moment in the context of a diagnosis of lung cancer within the family.

Platt, Phyllis Ann. Innovation diffusion and the institutionalization of Kentucky's Resource and Youth Services Centers: A multiple case study.

Cole, Jennifer. Factors influencing interprofessional collaboration on sexual assault response teams.

Shannon, Lisa. Understanding motivations and intentions for long-term substance abuse treatment among pregnant, drug-dependent women.

Wermeling, Linda. Why social workers leave the profession: A study of retention.

Loeffler, Diane. Predicting and understanding mortgage repayment outcomes among low-income households in Central Kentucky.

Sanders, Scott. Ethics education in social work: Comparing outcomes of graduate social work students from discrete and infused programs.